Party planners are in the business of bringing smiles to children's faces, but we have to make a profit while doing so. We just have to be confident to charge our worth and transition our minds into a value based pricing system instead of a service based pricing system. Once I did that, my confidence levels soared.

This is particularly important if you're planning a small party. If you want to have 4 children at the party, you probably need to invite 6 or you risk having a party that is too small. If you're inviting 20 kids, it's less important to invite extras, because you'll probably end up with enough children to make it feel like a party.
